This matter comes before the Public Service Commission of South Carolina ("Commission") on a request by Progress Energy Carolinas, Inc. ("PEC" or the "Company") to revise its Residential Service - Load Control Rider LC-SUM-4 (PEC's Energy Wise Home Program). The Energy Wise Home Program is a residential load control program that monitors the operation of and may interrupt service to electric central air conditioning units and electric heat. According to the Company, PEC is proposing to revise the tariff by: (1) the addition of a $25 customer referral incentive with a maximum of four referrals per customer per year; (2) the expansion of the availability to non-owner occupied dwellings where the owner has given the tenant consent to have necessary equipment installed; and (3) clarification that PEC will retain the environmental, energy efficiency, and demand response benefits and attributes associated with these programs. The Office of Regulatory Staff ("ORS") has no objection to the proposal.

We find that these revisions to the tariff are reasonable, and they are therefore approved.

This Order shall remain in full force and effect until further order of the Commission.
